Assistant Secretary, Finance.

1. Are there any Government orders laying down the general policy to be followed in ordering supplies of Stores &c required by the various departments of the State as regards selection of firms, fixing of rates &c?

2. If there is no general policy laid down, have any special orders been issued relating to the purchases of any special Department?. Please take up all the important purchasing departments one by one and make a summary of the orders relating to each.

3. It seems ~~were~~ desirable that the Durbar should make its general policy in the matter known to all Heads of Departments for guidance and pass definite orders on such points as may be considered necessary.

4. Please study the question and let me have a note on the subject within a month.

Later on, in Jan: 1907, it having been found that the annual contract system was more advantageous, the same was prescribed in the case of all the Murrai institutions in the Mysore Dt whose monthly expenses (excluding Establishment charges) were not less than Rs 25. The same system prevails also in the Chattram at Irupati, N. Arcot Dt. The Govt Pro: referred to above are put up herewith for refce. Supply of Stores

6 There are no local orders on the subject on the model of those of India. Stores and materials for works obtainable in the Indian markets are purchased by Ex: Engrs except in the case of articles of a special nature the supply of which is arranged for by the Chief Engr. It has recently been ordered by the Chief Engr that requisitions from Exe: Engrs for foreign articles should be made through his office (Flag A) but this does not apply to the Ch: El. Engr who being the head of his Dept makes his own arrangements for purchases.

Comptroller.

7 Chris No 814/16

7 It will be seen from the notes recorded by these several Branches of the Secretariat that there are no orders laying down the general policy of Government to be followed in purchasing Stores. From enquiry in the Public Works Branch of the Comptroller's Office it is ascertained that there are no standing instructions, except those mentioned in the Public Works Department Code, for regulating the purchase of Stores by the Public Works and Electrical Departments.

A

8. Within their powers of sanction the Heads of Offices and Departments purchase stores required by them and apply for Government sanction when such sanction to expenditure is necessary under the rules. Whether in respect of purchases within the powers of sanction of Heads of offices or Departments or of those sanctioned by Government there are no standing instructions to regulate how the purchases should be made. In some Departments the system of calling for tenders and obtaining supplies of stores on contract is in vogue while in others the matter appears to have been left to the discretion of the authority making the purchase.

9. The actual arrangements necessary for obtaining the required stores would depend on many considerations like the nature of the articles required, the urgency of the demand, the quantity (large or small) required and the capacity of local markets to supply articles of the required description and quality at reasonable prices. Though special arrangements may be necessary in exceptional circumstances, yet a set of standing rules to regulate the normal purchase of stores by Government Departments would be of great value both as guide to such Departments and also as a means to give effect to the general policy of Government which as a large purchaser of materials has opportunities of affording encouragement to local industries.

10 4. The chief points to be kept in view by the several consuming Departments in making purchases appear to be the following:-

(a) Articles produced or manufactured in Mysore should by preference be purchased if their quality is good and their price is fair.

(b) If the articles required cannot be had in Mysore but can be had in India, they should not be obtained from outside India, provided the quality of the articles which the Indian market can supply is good and their price is fair.

(c) As regards articles not available in India they should be obtained from only countries and firms approved by Government. The main consideration in the selection of countries and firms is their established reputation for supplying good and genuine articles of the quality and description required at reasonable prices.

(d) Where the conditions of supply and the nature of articles required admit of the contract system being adopted and the competition of tenderers enables the purchase of required articles being made as economically as they can be brought directly by Government in the market, the such contract system should be preferred.

11 5. The large consuming Departments are the following:-

Public Works, Electrical, Press and Stationery, Military, Medical, Government Houses, Police, Education and Minor Departments (Government Gardens, Agriculture Chemist &c).

12 6. It is necessary to ascertain the resources of Indian firms and manufacturers and also the prices charged by different firms for the several kinds of articles required by the purchasing Departments and for this purpose we may request the Government of India to kindly furnish us with whatever information is gathered by the Director General of Commercial Intelligence for the use of the consuming Departments of Government in British India. This officer may not undertake to advise us in particular cases but whatever information is collected by him regarding the kinds of articles Indian firms can supply and the prices at which ~~Indian firms~~ they can supply them, may be furnished to us also for our use. It is presumed that the supply of such information takes the form of compilations issued periodically (Vide para 7 of G.I.Resolution dated 14-7-'09).

B It is also necessary to ascertain the resources of English and European firms and manufacturers and also the prices charged by them for the several kinds of articles. Where however the arrangement of obtaining articles by calling for tenders is feasible and the articles can be had in India as well as in England, simultaneous tenders for delivery in India may be invited in India and in England with a view to see whether it will be more economical to get the things directly in India or from England. Where articles have to be purchased without the arrangement of tenders it is necessary to compare the the prices charged by different firms for the same articles. It seems difficult to get any general information for guidance in ordering stores from outside India in such cases. The Rate Lists prepared by the Director General of Commercial Intelligence may perhaps be useful for this purpose and we may obtain some copies of them by applying to the Government of India. These lists, which are issued every quarter, contain full and detailed information regarding the requirements of all Consuming Departments. From para 13 of the Resolution dated 14th July 1909 it appears that the Government of India will comply with our requests for being supplied with a few copies of the Rate Lists as they are issued. It is not however clear ~~of these notes~~ of these lists contain details as to the names of the Firms which can supply articles and the prices charged by them. Perhaps they give only the rates at which the India Office can supply articles. In any case a sample list may be obtained with a view to see what information it gives and what use we can make of it.

13 8. The following rules based on those sanctioned by the Government of India in July 1909 are proposed to regulate the supply of articles for the public service:- Subject to any instructions regarding specific articles which have been or may be issued by Government the following rules should generally regulate the supply of articles required for the public purpose:-

1. When articles of the kind required are produced in Mysore in the form of raw material, or are manufactured in Mysore from material produced in Mysore such supports production or manufacture should by preference be purchased provided the quality is sufficiently good for the purpose and the price not unfavourable.

2. When articles of the kind required are manufactured in Mysore from imported materials such articles suppose manufacture should by preference be purchased subject however to the following conditions:-

(a) That a substantial part of the process of manufacture of the articles has been performed in Mysore

(b) That the price is as low as that at which articles of similar quality can be obtained outside Mysore.

3. When Articles of the kind required are not produced or manufactured in the parts of India, such articles should be purchased by Indian Firms, provided the quality of the articles is sufficiently good for the purpose and the price charged for them is not unfavourable.

4. Articles not produced or manufactured in India should be obtained only from Firms approved by Government in the respective departments in the way explained in Appendix II to this order.

When articles of the kind required are produced or manufactured in India but the Indian article cannot be given preference under the above rules, such articles of foreign manufacture may be purchased.

5. Purchases on behalf of Government should be made according to the procedure laid down in Appendix I to this order.

6. In the case of important construction works let out on contract articles not manufactured in India required for the construction of such works may be supplied by the contractors subject to the following conditions:-

(a) That the Firm is approved by Government

(b) That the materials are subject to the specification and tests prescribed by Government.

7. In the case of purchases made under rules 1,2 and 3 an Officer's powers of purchase extend to the ordinary limits to which he is empowered to enter into contracts. But for the purpose of rules 5 and 6 the money limits of expenditure for any one article or any number of similar articles purchased at one time may be as follows:-

1. Heads of Departments, Deputy Commissioners in respect of Departments directly under Government, Executive or Assistant Engineers in charge of Divisions	Rs 50

2. (Other officers authorised to incur expenditure ... 95

(Government order 2647-52 dated 9.10.06 was referred to contingent expenditure. As the purchases now under consideration are of stores, higher money limits than are fixed in the said order are proposed).

16 &. The Administrative Departments of Government & the Heads of the Chief Consuming Departments are in a better position than the Financial Branch to offer useful suggestions on the subject under consideration, especially regarding particular articles which may be purchased in India (Vide Rule 4 of the Government of India Resolution dated 14th July 1909) and the particular Firms from which iron steel &c., may be bought and the case may be referred to them for favour of remarks.

6/5/10

Financial Secretary.

14&. The Comptroller in passing bills for purchases made will see that these rules are observed & in cases in which in his opinion the rules have not been observed shall refuse payment till the sanction of Govt is obtained by the purchasing Dept.

15& A list of the articles generally required by various departments together with necessary information viz. whether they belong to the class referred to in Rule 1, 2, 3 or 4 is given in App 3 to this order. Heads of Depts are requested to intimate to Govt such changes as may be necessary in this list from time to time.

Proposal to Issue orders regulating the purchase of stores etc, in the various departments.

17 The draft resolution placed below explains itself.

Pages 1-6

18 The Office Notes leading up to it are contained in pages 1 to 21 of the sheets below commencing from my mote of the 17th February 1910. It will be seen from these notes that there is no system in the matter of purchases, the various departments being free to act on their own lines and there is reason to apprehend that considerable loss of Government money results in various ways.

19 I have tried to attack the question in a practical way which will enable us to introduce some system immediately. To try to ascertain with any degree of completeness the resources of firms and manufacturers all over India and also in England and Europe is a big task and if we were to wait till we collected that information, we would not be in a position to introduce any reform in the matter at all for many many years yet.

20 We may write for a copy of the Rate Lists compiled by the Director of Commercial Intelligence. They are not however included in the lists of publication offered for sale by the Commercial Intelligence -- Department. If we get the lists we can amplify the Appendix from the additional information contained in them.

(A)

21 If Government are in favour of issuing a resolution on the above lines the -- forms of Appendix should be printed and -- got filled up[x] by the various Heads of Departments. After the filled-up forms are received the whole resolution with the --- Appendix may be printed and issued.

[x] For this purpose a number of the Appendix form should be sent to each Head of Dept^t with a circular letter in the form attached. The Appendix forms should be printed in half-foolscap sheets the name of Dept^t at the top being filled up in Manuscript. When the Appendix is finally printed, the sheets will run into one another to produce one continuous statement.

22 It will be observed that the draft resolution covers wider grounds than the British Indian Rules. In British India : when articles are not locally purchased, they are obtained from the Stores Department of the India Office and an indent on that Department is all that is necessary. We have no such Stores Department and the

the method of purchase has to be laid down

23 I would also invite the attention of Government to the remark contained in para 6 of the Government of India Resolution of the 14th July 1909, namely, that the Committee had deprecated the creation of Store Depots. This seems to be a very healthy recommendation and I should be glad to see the number and volume of transactions of the various store depots in the State reduced as far as possible. This however is a different matter and will be taken up separately if the Government so desire.

But as these rules lose their force if individual exemptions from the general rules are made in favour of certain Depts and as the Govt of India Resolution upon which the draft rules are based are the same as those contained in the P.W.D Code on the subject, the Chief Engr. has again been requested to favour Govt with any such suggestions as would make the rules suitable to his Deptt and his reply on the reference is awaited.

64 Replies are also due from the Secy to Govt, Genl & Rev Deptt and also from Secy. Economic Conference which will be put up on their receipt.

65 The Govt of India have recently revised the rules on the subject. There are not many points of variance between the rules of July 1909 & the modified rules. The Main provisions remain the same, though the Rules 8 to 13 have now been styled as general rules and the Powers contemplated in the Rule 13 thereof have either been

66 In this connection attention is invited to the following note of Mr. Lakshminarasimha Rao, Asst Secy & the remarks of the 7 ind Secy thereon:-

'In going thro' the records in the Imperial Secrt at Simla, I found that the Govt of India were appointing every year a committee of Officers to decide upon the tenders. This is an obvious safeguard. The Officer of indenting Deptt may be one of the Committee along with 2 or more outsiders and this would ensure that justice is done to the tenderers generally. It strikes me that this addition would be very desirable. I suggest the following rule in addn:

'A committee of Officers' of which the head of the indenting Deptt would also form a member will be appointed by Govt each year to examine the various tenders & approve them'

'This point may be taken up when the general question is worked up and the rules are put up for final approval.

71. The tender system is the crucial point in the whole system & cannot be given up. The objections raised & the objecting depts are not altogether very clear and perhaps are taken with the misgiving that the rules will needlessly clog work. (2) the appointment of a London agent to purchase ship machinery &c the second proposal is a sound one & may be adopted. As for the first I submit I do not see the reasonableness of the proposal. So long as Bombay can be a purchasing & we have to do a foreign market it seems to me that common prudence will dictate that we must get the thing from the cheapest source provided it is of the requisite quality. In ~~Europe~~ calculating cheapness steam freights will necessarily enter and I do not think that this preference to Madras is necessary.

J
17.1.13

Agreed

3 Our foreign purchases are not all in England; I doubt even whether the major part of them are in that country. So the appointment of an agent in London may not be a great advantage in many cases. Again in many instances we do not purchase foreign articles through local firms in India but order direct to firms in foreign countries.

Difference between General & Revenue Secretariat Draft & the Chief Engineer's Draft re: Purchase of Stores.

1. Tender System is proposed generally for all purchases above Rs. 250/- in value in the proposed order, the officers of all Departments being empowered to make purchases subject to their powers of sanction, of articles costing Rs.250/- or less.

Chief Engineer proposes to bring in such a system when the value of the purchase exceeds Rs. 2,500/-.

2. Powers of sanction. No limits are prescribed in the Secretariat Draft; but the Heads of Departments are empowered to make purchases to any extent if the procedure prescribed in these rules is followed, the limit being the sanctioned grant in the Departmental Budget.

The Chief Engineer proposes different -- limits of purchasing power for the officers of P.W.D. The word "purchasing" appears to have been used in the sense "purchasing without recourse to the tender system", because the value is less than Rs.2,500/-.

3. Statement of purchases.

As our rules are supplementary to Departmental rules, there is no need to specifically name any Department or officer having more extended powers than those provided by our rules. With these additions the rules proposed in the general case will not be - - contradictory to the rules proposed by the Chief Engineer in any respect except the limit of application of the tender system. The Chief Engineer wants to have the limit at Rs2,500, while the general rules lay the limit at Rs250.

If the Dewan approves, the slight additions referred to above will be made in the draft rules to meet the requirements of the Public Works Department. If he thinks a higher limit than Rs250 absolutely necessary in the case of Public Works Department, then such - - - limit as ~~ma~~ he may consider suitable will be specially laid down for the P. W. DRAFT.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Financial.

The Government have observed that at present there are no general orders laying down the policy to be followed in ordering supplies of stores, etc., required by the various departments of the State. The following rules are therefore laid down for the guidance of officers making purchases on behalf of Government. They apply to all departments of the State and also to purchases made on behalf of Local Funds.

2. In laying down rules on the subject of departmental purchases, two main points have to be dealt with: first, the selection of the article and secondly, the procedure of making the purchase. Rules relating to each of these points are given below:—

A. Selection of Article.

3. When articles of the kind required are produced in the Mysore State in the form of raw material or are manufactured in Mysore from materials produced in Mysore, such local production or manufacture should, by preference, be purchased, provided the quality is sufficiently good for the purpose and the price not unfavourable.

4. When articles of the kind required are manufactured in the Mysore State from imported materials, such local manufacture should, by preference, be purchased, subject, however, to the following conditions:—

(a) That a substantial part of the process of manufacture of the articles has been performed in the Mysore State.

(b) That the price is not higher than that at which non-Mysorean articles of similar quality can be obtained.

5. When articles of the kind required are not produced or manufactured in the Mysore State but are produced or manufactured in other parts of the Indian Empire, such Indian articles should be purchased, by preference, provided their quality, whether manufactured from Indian or imported materials, is sufficiently good for the purpose and the price charged for them is not unfavourable.

6. When articles of the kind required are not produced or manufactured in India, or when they are produced or manufactured in India, but the Indian article cannot be given preference under the above rules for defective quality or high price, articles of foreign manufacture may be purchased.

7. In the case of important construction works let out on contract, articles not manufactured in India required for the construction of such works may be supplied by the contractors subject to the following conditions :—.

(a) That the firm is approved by Government.

(b) That the materials are subject to the specification and tests prescribed by Government.

8. A list of the articles generally required by the various departments of the State together with the information whether they belong to the class referred to in Rule 3, 4, 5 or 6 above, is given in the appendix to this order. In column 4 of this appendix the names and addresses of firms approved by Government dealing in the article in question are shown. Special orders of Government regarding the supply of particular classes of articles are noted in column 5. Heads of Departments are requested to intimate to Government such changes as may be necessary in this list from time to time.

B. Procedure of Purchase.

9. The procedure indicated in the following rules should be followed by all officers making purchases on behalf of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore or Local Funds.

10. In the cases where any special orders of Government are noted in column 5 of the appendix, articles should be obtained by the purchasing officer in accordance with those orders.

11. In cases in which no special orders are noted against the article in column 5 of the appendix, tenders should be called for according to the rules given below. In the case of articles not already entered in the appendix, the purchasing officer should make an entry in his copy of appendix (columns 1, 2, 3 and 4) and then proceed under this rule. He should at the same time report to Government the entry made, so that the appendix may be amended in such a manner as the Government think fit.

12. At least three months before the articles are required, a notice calling for tenders for the supply should be published in the Mysore Gazette. The notice should be repeated in three successive issues of the gazette. The notice should give full description regarding quality, quantity, place and time of delivery, etc., and should also state where samples can be seen by intending tenderers. Tenders should be required to be submitted in a particular form to be printed with the notice. In the case of departments requiring large supplies fairly evenly distributed throughout the year, tenders for the annual supplies to be delivered in specified instalments at intervals should be called for.

13. Copies of all notices calling for tenders should be sent by the officer calling for the tenders to the firms specified as regards the particular class of articles in column 4 of the appendix.

14. If the value of the supply exceed Rs. 1,000, the notice calling for tenders should also be published in three issues of a leading English or Vernacular newspaper published in the Mysore State. The paper should be selected by the purchasing officer with due regard to the nature of the tender. If the value of the supply exceed Rs. 5,000, the notice should also be published in three issues of a leading English or Vernacular newspaper in Madras.

15. In accepting tenders, other things being equal, producers, manufacturers and firms in the Mysore State should be given preference.

16. The file of tenders with the orders of the purchasing officer accepting a particular tender should be carefully preserved for seven years for purposes of reference.

17. If no suitable tenders are received, the purchasing officer may order the articles required from one of the firms specified in column 4 of the appendix against the article in question.

18. The above rules apply to supplies exceeding Rs. 250 in value. Supplies of the value of Rs. 250 or less can be obtained direct from one of the firms mentioned in column 4 of the appendix against the article in question without calling for tenders. The purchasing officer should keep himself informed of the rates of the different firms and effect the purchase in the most economical way. Preference should, however, be given to Mysore firms, other things being equal.

19. Petty purchases of Rs. 25 or less are not regulated by these rules and may be obtained in any way at the discretion of the purchasing officer.

20. Officers making purchases are requested to see that a large purchase is not split up into several smaller ones for evading the rules relating to the larger purchases. When several small purchases of the same class of article are made within a period of three months, an explanation should be given on the bills stating why the purchases could not be made together.

C. General Rules.

21. These rules together with the appendix will be reprinted from time to time with such additions and corrections as may be necessary and will be supplied to all officers of the State who are required to make purchases, for information and guidance.

22. The Comptroller, in passing bills for purchases, will see that these rules are observed, a reference to the notice in the Gazette and newspapers calling for tenders being given by the drawer in the bill when necessary. In cases in which, in his opinion, the rules have not been observed, he should refuse payment until the sanction of Government is obtained by the purchasing officer.

Draft

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

Dated

The Government have observed that at present there are no general orders laying down the policy to be followed in ordering supplies of stores, etc., required by the various Departments of the State. The following rules are therefore laid down for the guidance of Officers making purchases on behalf of Government. They apply to all Departments of the State and also to purchases made on behalf of Local Funds.

2. In laying down rules on the subject of departmental purchases, two main points have to be dealt with : first the selection of the article and secondly, the procedure of making the purchase. Rules relating to each of these points are given below:-

A. Selection of Article.

Articles of Mysore production or manufacture

3. When articles of the kind required are produced in the Mysore State in the form of raw material or are manufactured in Mysore from materials produced in Mysore, such local manufacture manufacture should by preference, be purchased, subject, however, to the following conditions:-

(a) That a substantial part of the process of manufacture of the articles has been performed in the Mysore State.

Provided

(b) That the price is not higher than that at which non-Mysorean articles or similar quality can be obtained.

Articles of British Indian production or manufacture

5. When articles of the kind required are not produced or manufactured in the Mysore State but are produced or manufactured in other parts of the Indiam Empire, such Indian articles - should be purchased, by preference, provided their quality, whether manufactured from Indian or imported materials, is sufficiently good for the purpose and the price charged for them is not unfavourable.

Articles of Foreign Manufacture

6. When articles of the kind required are not produced or manufactured in India, and the Indian article cannot be given preference under the above rules for defective quality or high price, Articles of foreign manufacture may be purchased.

or when they are produced or manufactured in India,

Unnecessary

in other cases.

Supplies by Contractors

7. In the case of important construction works let out on contract, articles not manufactured in India required for the construction of such works may be supplied by the contractor subject to the following conditions:-

(a) That the Firm is approved by Government.

(b) That the materials are subject to the specification and tests prescribed by Government.

Appendix.

8. A list of the articles generally required by the various departments of the State together with the information whether they belong to the class referred to in Rule 3, 4, 5, or 6 above, is given in the appendix to this order. In column 4 of this appendix the names and addresses of firms approved by Government dealing in the articles in question are shown. Special orders of Government regarding the supply of particular classes of articles are noted in column 5. - Heads of Departments are requested to intimate to Government such changes as may be necessary in this list from time to time.

B. Procedure of Purchase.

9. The procedure indicated in the following rules should be followed by all Officers making purchases purchases on behalf of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja or Local Funds.

Unnecessary

Purchases according to Special orders

10 In the cases where any special orders of Government are noted in column 5 of the appendix, articles should be obtained by the purchasing Officer in accordance with those orders.

Tender system

11. In the cases in which no special orders are noted against the article in column 5 of the appendix, tenders should be called for according to the rules given below. In the case of articles not already entered in the appendix the purchasing Officer should make an entry in his copy of appendix(Cols.1, 2, 3, & 4) and then proceed under this rule. He should at the same time report to Government the entry made so that the appendix may be amended in such a manner as the Government think fit.

Addition to Appendix

12. If at any time a purchasing Officer thinks that any addition should be made to the list of firms against any article in the appendix he should intimate the same to Government through the proper channel with such particulars regarding the respectability of the firm as may be necessary. The addition will be made under orders of orders of Government in due course if there be no objection. As regards the purchases made in the meantime, the purchasing Officer, may, however, proceed on the assumption that the addition proposed by him will be approved.

Notice calling for tenders

13. next

parts of the Indian Empire , such Indian ar-

-vided their quality, whether manufactured from Indian or imported materials, is suffi-

B. Procedure of Purchase.

Tender System.

7 In the cases in which no special orders are noted against the article in col.5 of the appendix, tenders should be called for according to the rules given below. In the case of articles not already entered in the appendix the purchasing officer should make an entry in his copy of appendix(Cols.1,2,3,&4) and then proceed under this rule. He should at the same time report to Government the entry made so that the appendix may be amended in such a manner as the Government think fit.

Addition to Appendix.

he should intimate the same to Government through the proper channel with such particulars regarding the respectability of the firm as may be necessary. The addition will be made under orders of Government in due course if there be no objection. As regards the purchases made in the meantime, the purchasing officer, may, however, proceed on the assumption that the addition proposed by him will be approved.

Notice calling for tenders. 9 At least three months before the articles are required, a notice calling for tenders for the supply should be posted in the Office of the Officer concerned , and where the value of the supply exceeds Rs 500/- should be published in the Mysore Gazette also in three successive issues, giving full description regarding quality, quantity, place and time of delivery, etc., and should also state where samples can be seen by intending tenderers. Tenders should be required to be submitted in a particular form to be printed with the notice. In the case of Departments requiring large supplies fairly evenly distributed throughout the year , tenders for the annual supplies to be delivered in specified instalments at intervals may be called for. There is no objection,however, to accept tenders for short periods in such cases if the purchasing offic considers it necessary.

10 Copies of all notices calling for tenders should be sent by the Officer calling for tender to the firms specified as regards the particular class of articles in column 4 of the appendix.

11. If the value of the supply exceed Rs 2500, the notice calling for tenders should also be published in three issues of a leading English or Kannada newspaper published in the Mysore State. The paper should be selected by the purchasing officer with due regard to the nature of the tender. If the value of the supply exceed Rs 5000/- the notice should also be published in three successive issues of a leading English or Vernacular newspaper in Madras and Bombay.

12. In accepting tenders, other things being being equal, producers, manufacturers and firms in the Mysore State should be given preference.

File of tenders.

13. The file of tenders with the orders of the purchasing officer accepting a particular tender should be carefully preserved for seven years for purposes of reference.

Committee for consideration of tenders.

15. In the case of special Departments the Government may appoint Committees to help a purchasing officer in dealing with tenders. The rules of work for such Committees will be laid down separately for each Department.

Special Cases

Special cases.

Direct purchase from recognised firms

16.20. When there is risk of serious inconvenience or loss to the public service by waiting to obtain articles by the tender system, an -- officer may make a direct purchase from any of the recognised firms mentioned in the appendix. The nature of the urgency which rendered a deviation from the tender system necessary, should be explained in the bill.

17.21. When, owing to the greater promptitude of supply by particular agencies or the special - manufacture of some articles by certain firms, substantial economy can be effected by deviating from the tender system, the following officers may purchase directly the articles of the kind specified from the firms or agencies concerned.-

(1) Inspector-General of Education:- Apparatus, Books & Educational Appliances from the special firms dealing in them.

(2) Meteorological Department:- The special -- instruments and articles technical to the Department from the makers or the agents thereof.

(3) The Agricultural Chemist:- Apparatus & --- chemicals for the use of His Department from -- ~~chemicals~~ from the firms making them.

(4) The State Geologist:- Apparatus & chemicals for the use of his Department from the firms making them.

(5) The Excise Commissioner:- Liquor testing and measuring instruments from the English -- firms dealing in them.

Note.- When the bill for a purchase made under this rule is sent for audit, the drawing officer should record a statement explaining briefly the necessity of deviating from the tender system.

18 ~~22~~. When it is known that articles of the kind required cannot be had from any firm or agency in India, the tender need not be published in the Gazette. Copies of tender should,however, be sent by registered post to all firms mentioned in the Appendix against that class of articles.

General Rules.

19. ~~23~~. The above rules apply to supplies exceeding Rs.250 in value. Supplies of the value of Rs.250 or less can be obtained direct from one of the firms mentioned in column 4 of the appendix against the article in question without calling for tenders. The purchasing officer -- should keep himself informed of the rates of the different firms and effect the purchase in the most economical way. Preference should, however, be given to Mysore firms, other things being equal.

20 24. Petty purchases of Rs.25 or less are not regulated by these rules and may be made in - any way at the discretion of the purchasing - officer.

21 25. Officers making purchases are requested to see that a large purchase is not split up into several smaller ones for evading the -- rules relating to the larger purchases. When several small purchases of the same class of article are made within a period of three --- months, an explanation should be given on the bills stating why the purchases could not be made together.

Rules supplementary to departmental rules.

22 26. The rules should be read as supplement- ing such authorised rules and orders of Govern- -ment as are now in force in some departments- (E.g. the Public Works Department), regarding the powers of officers to make purchases and the method of purchasing. On all points on which special Departmental rules are silent or do not go far enough, these rules should be followed. But on points on which the Departmental rules are definite, they should be adhered to in preference to these rules.

22. These rules together with the appendix will be reprinted from time to time with such additions and corrections as may be necessary and will be supplied to all officers of the State who are required to make purchases for information and guidance.

Comptroller's duties.

23 The Comptroller in passing bills for purchases, will see that these rules are observed a reference to the notice in the Gazette and newspapers calling for tenders being given by the drawer in the bill when necessary. In cases in which, in the Comptroller's opinion the rules have not been observed, he should refuse payment until the sanction of Government is obtained by the purchasing officer.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

ORDER NO. FL. 2760-809—G. F. 214-10-88, DATED BANGALORE, 23RD DECEMBER 1913.

The following rules are laid down for the guidance of officers making purchases on behalf of Government. They apply to all departments of the State and also to purchases made on behalf of Local Funds, provided that whenever there is a conflict between these rules and those prescribed by or under the authority of Government on this subject for any particular department (such as the Public Works Department) the special rules of the department will be followed.

A. Selection of Article.

Articles of Mysore production or manufacture.

2. When articles of the kind required are produced in the Mysore State in the form of raw material or are manufactured wholly or substantially in Mysore such local articles should be purchased by preference, provided the price is not higher than that at which non-Mysorean articles of similar quality can be obtained. Articles made in Mysore from Mysore materials should have the first preference.

Articles of British Indian production or manufacture.

3. When articles of the kind required are not produced or manufactured in the Mysore State but are produced or manufactured in other parts of the Indian Empire, such Indian articles should be purchased, by preference, provided their quality, whether manufactured from Indian or imported materials, is sufficiently good for the purpose and the price charged for them is not unfavourable.

Supply by contractors.

4. In the case of important construction works let out on contract, articles not manufactured in India required for the construction of such works may be supplied by the contractor, subject to the following conditions:—

(a) that the firm is approved by Government and (b) that the materials are subject to the specification and tests prescribed by Government.

Appendix.

5. A list of the articles generally required by the various departments of the State together with necessary information is given in the appendix to this order. In column 5 of this appendix the names and addresses of firms approved by Government dealing in the articles in question are shown. Special orders of Government regarding the supply of particular classes of articles are noted in column 6. Heads of departments are requested to intimate to Government such changes as may be necessary in this list from time to time.

B. Procedure of purchase.

Purchases according to special orders.

6. In the cases where any special orders of Government are noted in column 6 of the appendix, articles should be obtained by the purchasing officer in accordance with those orders.

Tender system.

7. In the cases in which no special orders are noted against the article in column 6 of the appendix, tenders should be called for according to the rules given below. In the case of articles not already entered in the appendix, the purchasing officer should make an entry in his copy of appendix (columns 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5) and then proceed under this rule. He should at the same time report to Government the entry made so that the appendix may be amended in such a manner as the Government think fit.

Addition to appendix.

8. If at any time a purchasing officer thinks that any addition should be made to the list of firms against any article in the appendix, he should intimate the same to Government through the proper channel with such particulars regarding the respectability of the firm as may be necessary. The addition will be made under orders of Government in due course if there be no objection. As regards the purchases made in the meantime, the purchasing officer may, however, proceed on the assumption that the addition proposed by him will be approved.

Notice calling for tenders.

9. At least three months before the articles are required, a notice calling for tenders for the supply should be posted in the office of the officer concerned, and where the value of the supply exceeds Rs. 500, should be published in the Mysore Gazette also in three successive issues. The notice should give a full description regarding quality, quantity, place and time of delivery, etc., and should also state where samples can be seen by intending tenderers. Tenders should be required to be submitted in a particular form to be printed with the notice. In the case of departments requiring large supplies, fairly evenly distributed throughout the year, tenders for the annual supplies to be delivered in specified instalments at intervals may be called for. There is no objection, however, to accept tenders for shorter periods in such cases if the purchasing officer considers it necessary.

10. Copies of all notices calling for tenders should be sent by the officer calling for tender to the firms specified as regards the particular class of articles, in column 5 of the appendix.

11. If the value of the supply exceed Rs. 2,500, the notice calling for tenders should also be published in three issues of a leading English or Kannada newspaper published in the Mysore State. The paper should be selected by the purchasing officer with due regard to the nature of the tender. If the value of the supply exceed Rs. 5,000 the notice should also be published in three successive issues of a leading English or Vernacular newspaper in Madras and of a similar paper in Bombay.

Acceptance of tenders.

12. In accepting tenders, other things being equal, producers, manufacturers and firms in the Mysore State should be given preference.

File of tenders.

13. The file of tenders with the orders of the purchasing officer accepting a particular tender should be carefully preserved for seven years for purposes of reference.

14. If no suitable tenders are received, the purchasing officer may order the articles required from one of the firms specified in column 5 of the appendix against the article in question.

Committee for consideration of tenders.

15. In the case of special departments, the Government may appoint committees to help a purchasing officer in dealing with tenders. The rules of work for such committees will be laid down separately for each department.

Special Cases.

Direct purchase from recognised firms.

16. When there is risk of serious inconvenience or loss to the public service by waiting to obtain articles by the tender system, an officer may make a direct purchase from any of the recognised firms mentioned in the appendix. The nature of the urgency which rendered a deviation from the tender system necessary, should be explained in the bill.

17. When, owing to the greater promptitude of supply by particular agencies or the special manufacture of some articles by certain firms, substantial economy can be effected by deviating from the tender system, the following officers may purchase directly the articles of the kind specified, from the firms or agencies concerned:—

(1) Inspector-General of Education.—Apparatus, books and educational appliances, from the special firms dealing in them.

(2) Meteorological Department.—The special instruments and articles required for the department, from the makers or the agents thereof.

(3) The Agricultural Chemist.—Apparatus and chemicals for the use of his department, from the firms making them.

(4) The State Geologist.—Apparatus and chemicals for the use of his department. from the firms making them.

(5) The Excise Commissioner.—Liquor testing and measuring instruments from the English firms dealing in them.

Note.—When the bill for a purchase made under this rule is sent for audit, the drawing officer should record a statement explaining briefly the necessity for deviating from the tender system.

18. When it is known that articles of the kind required cannot be had from any firm or agency in India, the tender need not be published in the Gazette. Copies of tender should, however, be sent by registered post to all firms mentioned in the appendix against that class of articles.

C. General Rules.

Purchases not exceeding Rs. 250 in value.

19. The above rules apply to supplies exceeding Rs. 250 in value. Supplies of the value of Rs. 250 or less can be obtained direct from one of the firms mentioned in column 5 of the appendix against the article in question without calling for tenders. The purchasing officer should keep himself informed of the rates of the different firms and effect the purchase in the most economical way. Preference should, however, be given to Mysore firms, other things being equal.

Petty purchases.

20. Petty purchases of Rs. 25 or less are not regulated by these rules and may be made in any way at the discretion of the purchasing officer.

21. Officers making purchases are requested to see that a large purchase is not split up into several smaller ones for evading the rules relating to the larger purchases

When several small purchases of the same class of articles are made within a period of three months, an explanation should be given on the bills stating why the purchases could not be made together.

22. These rules together with the appendix will be reprinted from time to time with such additions and corrections as may be necessary and will be supplied to all officers of the State who are required to make purchases, for information and guidance.

Comptroller's duties.

23. The Comptroller in passing bills for purchases will see that these rules are observed, a reference to the notice in the Gazette and newspapers calling for tenders being given by the drawer in the bill when necessary. In cases in which, in the Comptroller's opinion, the rules have not been observed, he should refuse payment or hold the amount under objection until the sanction of Government is obtained by the purchasing officer.
